KINDAI UNIVERSITY

Higashiosaka Campus (Main Campus)

Japan, Osaka

We are here in Osaka, the second biggest city in Japan. It has a population of 8.8 million, or roughly 7% of the entire population. Furthermore, approximately 230,000 non-Japanese, or 8.9% of all non-Japanese registered in Japan, reside in Osaka.

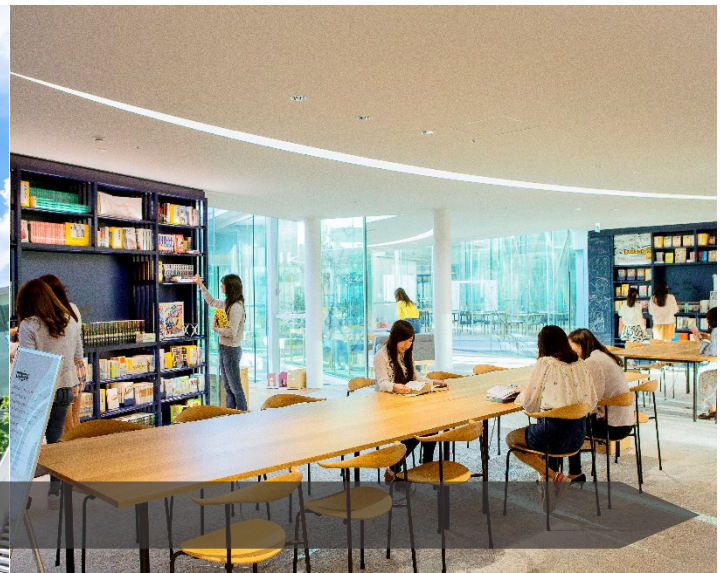

About Kindai

Kindai University was founded in 1925. Now one of Japan's largest universities, it has six campuses in western Japan and boasts research facilities across the nation. The university has over 30,000 students and more than 550,000 alumni.

The main campus has gone through extensive renovation in 2017 and boasts state-of-the-art facilities, such as innovative library, 24-hour self-study area, CNN Cafe, etc. and many more.

Studying at Kindai

Exchange students will study at the main campus in Osaka, which is conveniently located near the business/shopping center of Osaka within 15-minute train ride. Moreover, you can easily visit popular destinations such as Kyoto, Nara or Kobe on weekends.

As an exchange student at Kindai University, you will be able to choose courses (classes) from a variety of study areas alongside Japanese and other international students.

During your semester, you will be considered as full-time student requiring you to enroll in minimum 7 classes. Under the Kindai system, a standard subject is worth 2 credit hours. This generally equates to 2 credits in the US system or in the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS).

Language Partner Program (LPP)

Kindai University gives a lot of importance to language learning. Besides the availability of the various language courses in our many faculties, we also have the Language Hub where you can learn a variety of languages.

Language Hub will be running a Language Partner Program (LPP). The purpose of this system is as follows:

- A) To make Japanese friends
- B) To learn and practice Japanese with a native speaker
- C) To teach your native language to a Japanese student

*The duration of the program is until the last day of each semester.

International Exchange Team “Connect”

International Exchange Team “Connect” is a team of students who plan and manage international exchange events with the aim of stimulating exchange between international students and Japanese students at Kindai University.

This team will hold events twice a year (first and second semester), as well as mini events for small groups of students.

Students who want to make friends with Kindai students, we are waiting for your participation.

Kindai Short-Term Japanese Program

Kindai University provides a short term Japanese language/culture program for the students who are currently attending our partner universities.

The program is distinctive in the way that it consists of interaction with Kindai University students and hands-on Japanese traditional culture experiences incl. Budo, the Japanese martial arts.

The Japanese language course is also peculiar in the sense that various levels are available, from elementary level without no learning experience to intermediates.
